5 April (Mon) – 5 May (Wed/Hol) “15 Things to Know About LGBTQ Today”

Every day during Pride Week (Monday 26 April to Wednesday 5 May), we will be delivering online content divided into themes such as LGBTQ and education, sport, legislation, disaster prevention, healthcare, the workplace, refugees, sexual violence and local cities. Each session will last 20 minutes, allowing participants to discuss LGBTQ issues from various perspectives.

However, while the terms “LGBTQ” and “diversity” have integrated themselves into our society, it has become clear that, to create a society in which everyone can live freely, there are some matters that remain unresolved. In this content, we aim to help solve this problem by deepening understanding of LGBTQ and diverse values and lifestyles throughout Japanese society, and by making more people aware of the various issues that arise from persistent discrimination and prejudice.

5 May (Wed/Hol) “The Diversity of Families -Selective surnames, special adoptions, and same-sex marriage-” (15:00-16:30)

On 5 May, the last day of Tokyo Rainbow Pride 2021, we will welcome three guests for a live broadcast on the theme of “family” from 15:00. As individual lifestyles continue to diversify, so too does the nature of the family. This talk considers the future of the family unit by sharing various perspectives on such issues as selective surnames, special adoptions, and same-sex marriage.
